A Virtuoso Performer

Crispian Steele-Perkins is a trumpet soloist who is world-renowned for the quality of his performances and wide-ranging musical experience.

Celebrated for his skill as a communicator, his recitals and amusing demonstrations showcase the development of brass instruments over the past 500 years. These presentations have entertained and enlightened audiences throughout Europe, the US and Australia. His infectious enthusiasm to share the sounds, mysteries and anecdotes of previous centuries is an inspiration to all age groups.
